BIRMINGHAM, Ala.-The Birmingham Public Library (BPL), in conjunction with the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE) https://birmingham.score.org/ and the City of Birmingham's Office of Economic Development, is relaunching its monthly seminar, Steps to Starting Your Business, beginning Tuesday, Feb. 20, 2018. The workshop, to be held monthly through June from noon to 1 p.m. in the Arrington Auditorium, 4th floor of the Linn-Henley Research Library, is free to the public.

The seminar are scheduled for the following Tuesdays: Feb. 20, March 20, April 17, May 15, and June 19. Topics covered will include crafting a vision statement, identifying sources of funding, determining the legal structure of your business, devising a business plan, and investigating sources of business and economic information. Please register by contacting Valencia Fisher in the Economic Development Office at Valencia.Fisher@birminghamal.gov or 205-254-2799.

Seminar presenters will be veteran mentors from the Birmingham chapter of SCORE (the Service Corp of Retired Executives). SCORE is a national nonprofit association consisting of volunteers with business skills and experience who want to share their knowledge with prospective entrepreneurs and small business owners. For over 50 years, SCORE mentors have helped millions of Americans start and grow their own businesses.

For further information about the seminars or about resources available at the Birmingham Public Library relating to small business development, please contact Jim Murray in the Central Library's Business, Science and Technology Department at jmurray@bham.lib.al.us or by phoning 205-226-3691.
